How we bring your solutions to life

Introducing Detpak's next-generation RecycleMe™ technology

Exclusive to Detpak in Australia and New Zealand, RecycleMe™ is a highly mineralised resin alternative to traditional coatings, providing a recyclable component (paper or board) of at least 70% of the product.

This technology is supported by extensive testing, international pulping certification and has been tested and endorsed by paper recycling mills. The formulation not only provides an equal barrier but reduces plastic use by 40%.

Existing RecycleMe™ lined products have been approved for the Australasian Recycling Label (ARL), allowing them to be placed in kerbside recycling bins*. With the Australian Government committed to working with industry to apply the ARL to at least 80% of supermarket products by December 2023, RecycleMe™ is the ultimate solution for recyclable, coated paper and board, across a range of products.

Product Solutions

Detpak's next-generation RecycleMe™ technology can replace most traditional applications of polyethylene coated paper and board products. The lining can be applied as an internal and external barrier.

Examples include cartons, trays, wraps, rewind, pouches, cups, bowls and bags.
